

Life With SCI/D

Connecting individuals with Spinal Cord Injuries or Related Disabilities to each other and the resources they need.

For individuals with spinal cord injury or related disability & their families/caregivers, seeking opportunities to connect with and meet others who are going through the same/similar experiences are invited to check out our peer groups and membership meetings!

Connect with others for social, education and resources information exchange.
Join your peers to discuss topics relating to your injury, share information and resources, and partake in various recreation and social activities that will help you better adjust to life with a spinal cord injury or related disability and become more independent.

Join us each month!
