

How Your Support Shapes KC

What we build together today may one day care for someone you love.

Most people don't think about disability services until they need them

-  Until a parent takes a fall
-  Until a spouse receives a life-changing diagnosis
-  Until a child is born needing additional support
-  Until a veteran returns home with new challenges
-  Until someone you love can no longer safely navigate daily life alone

And when that day comes, families across Kansas City turn to The Whole Person.

In the last year alone, The Whole Person made a real impact in our community.

Every day, your support helps individuals live independently

-  Home accessibility modifications
-  Wheelchair ramps and safety improvements
-  Independent living advocacy
-  Transportation and mobility support
-  Employment and life skills services
-  Benefits counseling and resource navigation

Why Your Donations Matter

When you give to The Whole Person, you're helping build the kind of Kansas City every family hopes will be there when life changes unexpectedly.

Disability does not discriminate

It can impact:

- Any family
- Any neighborhood
- Any stage of life

Kansas City Thrives When We Take Care of Each Other

Families stay together longer

Caregivers face less burden

More people remain in their homes

More residents participate in work and community life

Kansas City becomes stronger for everyone.

Beyond direct services, The Whole Person participated in 283 community outreach and engagement activities last year, helping educate, advocate, and build a more inclusive Kansas City for all.

This Is More Than a Donation

It can impact:

- A more accessible Kansas City
- A stronger support system for families
- A future where no one is left behind
- A community prepared to care for all

People Helping People

The Whole Person is powered by 77 full-time staff, with more than half bringing lived disability experience.

This is not just service delivery. This is people helping people who understand what independence truly means.

Help build the Kansas City You Want Waiting For Your Family

The community we create today is the one we all inherit tomorrow.

When you support The Whole Person, you help ensure that when hardship comes, and for many families it eventually does, help will already be there.

Because every family deserves a community ready to support them when life changes.
